Enjoy The Benefit of the Only Raised Heating Element Design

Get it With the OptiSource Dye-Master Tinting Systems!

Dye-Master Tint Systems have been manufactured and built to high-quality specifications since 1970. We are proud to produce the most highly respected tinting systems in the industry.

A pioneer in the science of tinting, OptiSource has consistently provided cutting-edge technology. OptiSource tint systems have features that make them superior to any other brand. The core of these differences is the OptiSource "water-based" advantage. Our water-based tint units eliminate both the need for and cost of heat transfer fluid. Water is safe, natural and inexpensive.

Our proprietary leak-free design totally eliminates downtime, headaches and the messes associated with leaky tint units. The basins are made of seamless stainless steel with no welds or leak points. The unique above-the-fluid heating element design allows for elevated side entry of the heating element.

In head-to-head comparisons, OptiSource Dye-Master Tinting Systems clearly out-perform other manufacturers' systems in price, operating cost, eliminating offensive odors, environmental issues, temperature control, quality and safety. The best part is that the unit pays for itself in just two years with the savings in HTF costs, and eliminates the messy disposal problems that come with it.

Benefits of the OptiSource Dye-Master Tint Systems:

- The world's first and only water-based tint system
- Made of quality, thick-gauge, corrosion-resistant stainless steel
- High-strength corrosion-resistant heating element for efficient, reliable heating
- Quality medical-equipment-grade electrical components
- High-performance, precision thermostat holds temperature to within +/- 1° Centigrade. This stability ensures consistent colors and extends the life of the tint
- Quart pans and half-quart (pint) mini-pans available for increased tinting capacity

Dye-Master 9-Pan Water-Based Tint System

High-Performance, High-Production Tinting is Now Yours...
Without the Mess or High Cost!

This degree of accuracy provides optimal conditions for perfect tinting every time, and OptiSource offers the most comprehensive, longest guarantee.
